COUNTY POLITICS.

The busy season for politicians has commenced. The various offices to which they aspire will be thrown the city and county open for votes for the first Tuesday in November, and every aspirant is now busy at work. The office of County Clerk is one of the most important of the candidates for this office, the "Chicago Reform Movement," as it is called, would not have been inaugurated. The present incumbent of the County Clerk's office has, we believe, discharged his public duties in a satisfactory manner. There is no objection to him on that score. The opposition to him is based in part upon the fact that he has held a highly remunerative office for four years, and that he ought not to ask for four years more. There is, perhaps, some force in this objection, but still more on the fact that the political leaders have courted things with a pretty high hand for so long a time that the average voter has become heartily disgusted with their manipulations. It has been a common thing for these gentlemen, before election, to promise almost anything to secure votes, and after the election to forget all their promises. Hence the people have come to look upon politicians generally as a class of men not to be trusted. Many, in the exercise of their right of suffrage, vote against men whom they would not trust with their money, or to whom they would not intrust the management of their business affairs, simply because they are politicians. This feeling has been greatly enlarged by the action of the Board of Supervisors, a foreign body, who, not even deemed an entity by the people, have usurped the power of choosing judges of elections, in the face of the express law of the State, which makes it the duty of the Board of County Commissioners to perform that duty. Half in order to the County Clerk, the majority

The Journal Officiel announces that the health of the Emperor continues to improve, and his attack of rheumatism is nearly over. The Empress has arrived at Ajaccio. General Prim has gone to Vichy.

ATTEMPT TO BLOW UP THE UNITED STATES FRIGATE SABINE.

A desperate conspiracy was discovered on board the United States frigate Sabine, now lying in the port of Cherbourg. Some of the crew, to revenge themselves on their officers, attempted to set fire to the powder magazine, and blow up the ship. They had proceeded so far as to light a match communicating with the magazine, when the deed was discovered by a cabin boy, who informed on the burning rope. It was found that twenty-two natives were implicated in the plot, and they were put in irons. Seven have been since executed to death at the yard-arm.
